> ticket to ride

Get out of the house and take a ride with your little one. The WeeRide centre-mounted child seat lets baby sit in front of you and features a padded dashboard to act as a pillow for the weary traveller. It is priced at $169, from www.weeride.com.au or phone 9015 7251 for stockists.

WeeRide

If you have used a rear-mounted baby bike seat in the past you will know how frustrating it can be when you can't see what your child is doing. Perhaps they have decided to throw a shoe off, or the helmet is covering their eyes or they may have fallen asleep – it's very hard to look after them when they are behind you and you are trying to keep your eyes on the road. The new WeeRide centre-mounted child bike seat allows you to watch your child and the road at the same time. The padded dashboard even acts as a comfy pillow for the sleepy traveller.

A recent study by Research Now found that seven out of 10 parents would prefer a front-mounted bicycle child carrier over a traditional rear-mounted one. The WeeRide will allow you to feel your child is safe while you enjoy the significant health, transport and environmental benefits of cycling. You'll be able to talk to your child and view them at all times while riding with your arms around them. If they do decide to throw a shoe you'll see it straight away and not realise a kilometre down the road. In fact, you can probably prevent such mishaps from occurring.

The WeeRide is available from www.weeride.com.au, RRP $169 (plus delivery).

Wear it your way

You want to go for a ride but you're waiting on an important call and have nowhere to put your phone. Introducing the sportHolster – the ideal wearable accessory to keep your most important items with you yet out of the way when on the bike. Made with special textiles and reflective material for night riding, the sportHolster is perfect for keeping your personal things ready at hand. Designed by Urban Tool, which is a new-age label focusing on bringing fashion, sport and mobile technology together. Combining functionality and cool design, the wearables hold your personal items (phone, ipod, wallet, keys) securely and comfortably in everyday life or while you ride, jog, walk kayak or whatever it is that you like to do.

The sportHolster retails $73.00. For further products and ordering info, go to www.urbantool.com.au
